8. PROCEDURE FOR THE VALUATION

I have performed the following procedures to carry out my valuation analysis:

- 8.1 I had requested and was provided the data as per my detailed requisition list including draft proposed Scheme, structure of the Companies, current shareholding details, operational details of the companies, business growth estimates, financial projections, etc.
- 8.2 Discussed with the representatives of the Companies about the proposed Scheme, and the various operational and financial details and received updates on key business parameters, its earning capacity and expected financial performance;
- 8.3 Selected valuation methodology as considered appropriate for the purpose of my valuation considering the basis and premise of valuation;
- 8.4 Analyzed the business projections of the Companies for the purpose of my valuation which are valued using the Income Approach;
- 8.5 Obtained necessary data from the public domain, as considered relevant for my valuation analysis;
- 8.6 Determined the fair value of equity shares of YA and YP and determined the share exchange ratio;
- 8.7 Prepared a draft share exchange ratio report and shared it with the Companies (excluding the recommended equity share exchange ratio) for confirming the facts stated in the Report;
- 8.8 Issued the final share exchange ratio Report.

9. METHODOLOGY OF THE VALUATION

9.1 In order to arrive at the fair value of a company, there are three traditional approaches which can be considered:

9.1.1. Market approach:

The Market approach is a valuation approach that uses prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable assets, liabilities or a group of assets and liabilities, such as a business. The market approach should be applied and afforded significant weight if the subject asset or substantially similar assets are actively publicly traded, or there are frequent and/or recent observable transactions in similar assets.

9.1.2. Income approach:

The Income approach is a valuation approach that converts maintainable or future amounts such as cash flows or income and expenses, to a single current (discounted or capitalized) amount. The fair value measurement is determined based on the value indicated by current market expectations about those future amounts. The income approach should be applied and afforded significant weight if the income-producing ability of the asset is the critical element affecting value and/or reasonable projections of the amount and timing of future income are available for the subject asset.

9.1.3. Cost approach:

The Cost approach seeks to determine the business value based on the value of its assets. The Cost approach should be applied and afforded significant weight if the asset is not directly income-generating and the unique nature of the asset makes using an income approach or market approach unfeasible, or the asset can be recreated with substantially the same utility as the subject asset.

9.2 The Discounted Cash Flow Method under the Income Approach takes into consideration the business potential and future earnings prospects. Hence, the valuation derived from this Approach would be more representative of the fair value of the Companies. Based on my analysis, there are no listed peers with similar risk-return profile as the Companies, and hence the Market Approach has not been used in the valuation. The Cost Approach is a valuation approach that reflects the amount that would be required currently to replace/reproduce the service capacity of an asset. As the Companies are operational, I have considered it more appropriate to arrive at its value using the Income Approach and not the Cost Approach.

9.3 My valuation working is detailed in Annexure [A – E] to this Report.

9.4 DISCOUNTED CASH FLOWS (DCF) METHOD

- 9.4.1 Under this method, the fair value of equity shares of the company is arrived at by discounting the projected free cash flows to the firm or the equity holders including perpetual or terminal values using an appropriate discounting factor.
- 9.4.2 There are two fundamental approaches under this method: (i) Free Cash Flow to the Firm ('FCFF') or (ii) Free Cash Flow to the Equity ('FCFE'). Under the FCFF approach the free cash flows arrived at using the DCF methodology represent cash flows available to the equity owners of a business as well as its creditors. Such free cash flows in the explicit period and perpetuity/terminal value are discounted using the Weighted Average Cost of Capital ('WACC'), which is based on the cost of equity and the cost of debt adjusted for the capital structure applicable to the business. Under the FCFE approach the increase and decrease in debt is considered a part of the free cash flow computations and hence the free cash flows arrived at is the free cash flow available to the equity owners of the business. Such free cash flow in the explicit period and perpetuity/terminal value are discounted using the Cost of Equity applicable to the business.
- 9.4.3 I have thought it appropriate to adopt the FCFF approach in my valuation analysis as YA and YP, uses both Equity and Debt to fund its operations and FCFF represents the amount of free cash available for distribution to all investors.
- 9.4.4 The discount rate reflects the time value of money and the risk associated with the projected future cash flows. The WACC is the discount rate used to arrive at the value of the Companies.
- 9.4.5 In order to estimate the cost of equity, I have applied the Capital Asset Pricing Model ('CAPM'). According to CAPM, the cost of equity consists of a risk-free rate and risk premium. The risk premium is calculated by multiplying the market risk premium by the beta factor, a measure of the systematic risk of an equity investment adjusted with the leverage in the company. An appropriate percentage of Company Specific Risk Premium ('CSRP') is further added to account for the risks not captured.
- 9.4.6 Terminal value is the present value of all future cash flows expected to yield to a business at the end of the explicit period considering a mature phase of the business. The Terminal value may be arrived at using the Gordon Growth Model, Exit Multiple or Salvage Value at the end of the explicit period.
- 9.4.7 I have used the Gordon Growth model to calculate the Terminal value for which FCFF at the end of explicit period is determined which is divided by the discount rate minus the assumed perpetuity growth rate.
- 9.4.8 Present value of the terminal value is added to the present value of the explicit period cash flow to arrive at the Enterprise Value which is further adjusted by Net Debt of the Company to arrive at the Business Equity Value prior to adjustment for non-operating surplus assets.

10. BASIS FOR THE DETERMINATION OF THE FAIR VALUE

- 10.1 The valuation of the Companies has been arrived at based on the methodology explained hereinabove, various qualitative factors relevant to the business, business dynamics and growth potential of the business and taking into consideration the information, key underlying assumptions and limitations as articulated hereinabove.
- 10.2 I have arrived at the fair value of YA and YP using the methodology as explained. The summary of my analysis is as under:

(INR in Cr.)

Valuation Approach	YA		YP
	Value	Weight	Value	Weight
Income Approach	34.97	100%	55.75	100%
Relative value per share	34.97		55.75
Exchange ratio			12

Source: Valuer's Analysis

- 10.3 In the ultimate analysis, the valuation will have to be arrived at by the exercise of judicious discretion and judgments taking into account all the relevant factors. There will always be several factors, such as the quality of management, present and prospective competition, market sentiment and other factors, which are not evident from financial information, but which influence the worth of a business. This concept is also recognized in judicial decisions.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements, or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, and financial performance and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Accounting Standards prescribed under Section 133 of the Act, as applicable.

This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.

We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the Standalone financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards. From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

- 1) As required by the Companies (Auditor's Report) Order, 2020 ("the Order") issued by the Central Government in terms of Section 143(11) of the Act, we give in "Annexure A" a statement on the matters specified in paragraphs 3 and 4 of the Order, to the extent applicable.

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of the Company as at March 31, 2023, in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management’s responsibility for internal financial controls

The board of directors of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors’ responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls over financial reporting of the Company based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the standards on auditing prescribed under Section 143 (10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement in the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial control system over financial reporting.

Meaning of internal financial controls over financial reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that:

- (i) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;
- (ii) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and
- (iii) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management of override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

1. "Annexure B" to the Independent Auditor's ReportReport on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of YIZUMI PRECISION MACHINERY (INDIA) PRIVATE LIMITED ("the Company") as of March 31, 2022 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2022, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.
